

Mental Health Collaboration Hub

The MHCH is a secure online portal that helps connect youth and families in psychiatric or behavioral health “boarding situations” to safe and healing mental health treatment. Users can connect with appropriate living and mental health treatment settings based on the unique needs of the patient.

RECENT MHCH VIRTUAL COLLABORATION

Case information is submitted into the MHCH for youth who are boarding

The MHCH connects the case to appropriate mental health providers, safe living settings, and ancillary support services

The MHCH user community can view de-identified case information, collaborate creatively, and view case trends in dashboard

Users are able to participate in weekly video calls to network and interact realtime

FUNDING AND SUPPORT

The funding for the development and the ongoing sustainability of the Mental Health Collaboration Hub is from the Minnesota Pediatric Mental Health Access Program grant sponsored by the Minnesota Department of Health. Additional in-kind support is provided by the Metro Healthcare Coalition and AspireMN.

RECOMMENDATIONS

3 out of 4 have more than one psychiatric diagnosis

The “Star Thrower” tale is adapted from a writing by Loren Eiseley in 1969. The contrast between futility and determination serves as the inspiration for those who work tirelessly every day, despite constant challenges, to help youth in psychiatric crisis.
